Message from the Head Teacher

Hello All,

Next week as you may know it is the National Key Stage 2 testing week. All children in Year 6 will sit a series of tests, under fairly strict conditions. I am sure you will all join me in wishing the children who are taking these tests the very best. I have witnessed the learning and the effort they put into their work and I know Miss Avery has been drilling the children to reduce any trepidation they may feel towards the test. That said, a little healthy anxiety does get the brain firing on all cylinders and complacency can lead to disaster. I am sure the children will find the balance they need to achieve the best results they can. For this weekend, I would publicly suggest NO revision, just a little gentle reading for pleasure.

Please remember, it is a snapshot of performance on a particular day that is all. I know the school will be compared with others based upon that performance; but I am much more interested in the work the children produce day to day in their books and whether that reflects their efforts and talents appropriately.

Directly following that our Key Stage 1 tests will also take place and I am sure that all participants will give it their very best too. Who could ask for more?

Despite these external demands I do really like the Summer Term as it gives a little closure to the learning the children have been doing. That said, I often must remind children (and myself) that each year is simply a small part in the lifelong learning we are all engaged in.

As ever, thank you all for your support,
Sol Johnson.
