Tidiest Class Room

This week the tidiest class room goes to RABBITS

Hello All,

I usually write about the achievements of the pupils, advertise coming events, praise prior events or remind about mundane things like boots and coats. But this week I would like to make a huge and public thank you to my staff in both schools. They are working incredibly hard to really drive improvements across both sites.

As I am sure you are aware there will be a new inspection framework for all schools in September. The draft is already published, and it comments very clearly about how a school curriculum must be ambitious and designed to give all pupils the 'cultural capital' needed to succeed in life.

For that to happen it must be coherently planned and sequenced towards cumulatively sufficient knowledge and skills for future learning. We also have an enhanced duty of care to make sure that all pupils regardless of need can make the best progress within our curriculum as possible.

With the leadership across both schools they have really benefitted from clarity of thought and action. My staff have crossed 'the hill' and worked in their sister school. They have reviewed learning that is taking place there and they have supported the wider team with their enthusiasm and drive for their subjects.

This really gives both schools additional strength with the clear focus on the whole curriculum. It also has helped to share the workload across a wider body of people thus more time for thought and consideration of Quality First teaching.

I am really pleased with the way that this has developed and I am utterly confident that this will continue to improve as the school year progresses.

As ever, thank you all for your support,
Sol Johnson.
