Message from the Head Teacher

Hello All,

As we are approaching the long weekend I cannot help but think about the value of leisure time which must serve as the yang to the yin of work time. It may come as no surprise, to many of you, to read that I am a bit of a big kid at heart; which does test the patience of my family...a little. But I find my requirements for leisure are directly balanced by my requirements for work. For example, in the school calendar the weeks building to Christmas and Summer break up are manic. Thus, calm and reflective leisure is needed, simply curling up with a good book and not having to worry how long reading is enjoyed can really help recharge the batteries. In the Easter break I must admit I enjoyed gaming. The maelstrom of virtual combat was a refreshing change. This thinking has always made me very careful with what my own children have done in their free time too. But it is a fact, in my house, it is easier to point them in the direction of electronic distraction than point them in the direction of outdoors. However, I do believe that both are valuable and relevant in this ever-increasing digital age so the battles to get them out or reading are worth it.

With all that in mind I am hoping you all are lucky enough to have the time to really enjoy the bank holiday and have a wonderful family long weekend, whatever you end up doing.

Finally, I would like to give a special mention to Mrs Gospel in this newsletter. She was shortlisted for the DRET Students' Teacher of the Year Award. There are 22 primaries (most are bigger than Welton) and 12 secondaries, nearly 2000 people work for the Trust. There are around 800 teachers. She was on a shortlist of 3 for that award, sadly it was won by another. However, it was an incredible achievement and I am really proud to be part of the school she works in.

As ever, thank you all for your support,
Sol Johnson.
